..... MICHIANA'S LESBIAN NEWSLETTER

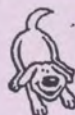

DYKE LIMO EXCURSION

On Sept. 4, the Summit DL pulled out of South Bend for an exciting 10 day, 2,245 mile jaunt to Cape Cod. The second day we arrived in Sandwich which is the first town as you enter the Cape. The next day we drove to several of the other towns and did a little shopping as we made our way to Provincetown, more commonly called P'Town. We checked in to the Check'er Inn, a delightful bed and breakfast for women only, which was our bed for the next three days. We spent some time in their new jacuzzi and than made our way to Commercial Street where all the action is. Fortunately, we got to see the Dyketones on their last scheduled evening in P'Town. This was a show not to be missed -thanks B & C for telling us about them. The late show following was a duet called the Lesbian Lounge Lizzards, which is a delightful combination of theatre and music by two very talented women that I think we'll be hearing more about. The next night we got to see Suzanne Westenhoefer's show - she was one of our favorites in Bloomington. During the day we did alot of the usual tourist things like riding the Trolley, visiting the monument, and walking along the beach. We had planned to take a sunset whale watching cruise, but it was cancelled due to weather. P'Town provides a euphoric feeling since you are part of the majority and can walk around town holding hands.

The sixth day of our jaunt found us arriving at Sister-Space in the Pocono Mountains. After we found our cabin and unloaded our second wardrobe, we wandered around and got our bearings. After dinner, we went to a workshop and then to listen to the always delightful and talented, Jamie Anderson. We stayed for a little of the Ase Drumming Circle, but we had a 6 a.m. kitchen duty, so called it an early evening. Everyone has to do a 2 hour work duty and we did our in Alice's Restaurant where all the food is prepared and served to the 850+ women. Went to several workshops and learned lots. Did you know there is a Lesbian Archives in New York preserving Women's Her-story? There is a group of women in Philadelphia starting the Triangle Investment to establish a National Lesbian Credit Union so our money can work for us rather than the big boys? There is a way to fight fair? We learned this and more. The week-end is also geared to the sports enthusiasts, with numerous games of softball, basketball, ping-pong, swimming and volleyball. We participated in several games of sand volleyball and had fun. Saturday evening we enjoyed the comedy of Karen Williams and stayed for the dance, at least a few songs, but it was too loud and fast. It had to be near freezing when we got back to the cabin, but once inside the bedroll, it was cozy warm. Sunday was sports playoffs, country dancing and more workshops. On day ten, we begin re-entry into the twilight zone to make $$ to keep on truckin' to these fun times. We must admit we did miss the dogs, but don't think they missed us as much. Kaye and Marcia

RESTAURANT REVIEW

The Skillet restaurant met our high standards of excellence. It is billed as a family restaurant but don't let that put you off--actually a woman we consider "family" works there most Friday nights and weekends.

The management coped nicely with the fact that, through miscommunication, two of our group had made reservations for 10. Again, one of us had to leave early and her food was served promptly. The whole staff was very friendly and our waitress even asked how many orders of the Better Than Sex chocolate cake she should set aside for us since they were running low.

The food was yummie, nothing gourmet but good basic food, and there was plenty of it for a reasonable price. They have excellent broasted chicken--the best in town--and they deliver. Comments on other meals included: Good ribs, great lasagna, nice vegetables. We heard the broasted chicken livers were to die for but none of our group tried them.

Obviously, we liked The Skillet and we give it a

Congratulations on your Run Jane Run victory! Or was that Run Judy Run?

NEW YORK TEACHERS FILE FOR DOMESTIC PARTNERSHIP BENEFITS

The Lesbian and Gay Teachers Association (LGTA) brought suit against the New York City Board of Education demanding that the Board provide domestic partnership benefits to teachers. Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund lawyers represented the LGTA and several teachers claiming the current policy awarding benefits only to married teachers discriminates on the basis of both sexual orientation and marital status. --info from Lesbian World Newspaper--

AND IN CHICAGO...

A complaint has been filed with the Chicago Commission on Human Relations by a graduate student at the University of Chicago challenging the University's policy of not allowing unmarried partners access to research and recreational facilities. The suit claims this is in violation of the Chicago human rights laws which ban discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation or marital status. --info from Lesbian World Newspaper--

LESBIAN PROPERTY CONTRACTS OK IN GEORGIA

A property contract between two lesbians may be enforced by the courts and is not voided by the Georgia sodomy law according to a recent ruling by the Georgia Supreme Court. The National Center for Lesbian Rights, Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund, and the American Civil Liberties Union all filed an amicus brief with the Georgia Supreme Court arguing that these contracts should be enforceable. --info from Lesbian World Newspaper--

BUY THAT KODAK FILM!

Eastman Kodak Co. has supported a lesbian and gay employee network, known as Lambda. Seems the right wingers have heard about the group and are flooding Kodak with calls and letters demanding that Kodak withdraw their support. To call Kodak and let them know what you think about their support of Lambda, or their products, the number is 1-800-242-2424 or write to: Eastman Kodak Co., 343 State Street, Rochester, NY 14650.

REPRESSIVE COMPANIES

According to a survey done by the National Lesbian and Gay Journalist Association, the following companies made the "most repressive" list by refusing to respond to the survey plus one other anti-homosexual act: Anheuser Busch, Cracker Barrel Old Country Stores, Delta Airlines, Mobil Oil, PepsiCo, Shell Oil, Target and K-Mart. The survey questioned the corporate policies on five issues: a written discrimination policy, domestic partner benefits, diversity training, lesbian and gay employee groups, and support for HIV/AIDS employees. Companies that were said to be progressive and had same sex benefits were: Apple Computers, AT&T(?), Ben & Jerry's, Boston Globe, Digital Equipment, Harley Davidson, Lotus, Microsoft, Warner Bros., HBO and RJR Nabisco. --info from the Detroit Free Press

RARE HIV TRANSMISSION

A doctor in Austin, Texas claims he is treating two HIV-positive lesbians who may have become infected through sex with other wimmin. Dr. David Wright says his patients probably did not contact the virus through shared needles or unprotected sex with men. IF these wimmin were infected through sex with other wimmin it would be the nation's first case of the virus being transmitted through lesbian sex. --info from the Detroit Free Press

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta, has documented one case of woman-to-woman transmission of the HIV virus. In general, most female/female sexual activity is considered low risk, but exchange of menstrual blood, exchange of body fluids during S&M activities, and the exchange of body fluids through sores or cuts should all be considered high risk.

In San Francisco, CA, a support group for lesbians with HIV, reports that 19% of the participants believe they contacted HIV from a female sexual partner. The director of the support group, Rita Shimman, found only one foundation out of seven that actually listed lesbians as needing HIV services. --info from Lesbian World Newspaper--

CONTACT DYKES NEEDED

The Switchboard Concern, P.O. Box 454, Elkhart, IN 46515, needs more lesbians who would be willing to talk to female callers wanting to know about support groups, activities, and occasionally questioning their own sexuality. The contact person's name and phone number are NEVER given out to the callers. The caller's name and phone number are relayed to the contact person and she is responsible for contacting the caller. If interested, call Pat at (219)-294-3549.

PRIDE ACTION COMMITTEE

The Pride Action Committee has started meeting to plan the 1994 Pride Day Celebration. Anyone interested in assisting should contact Marge at 277-7219.

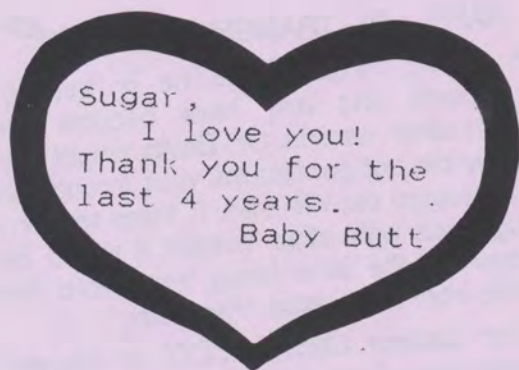

WIMIN'S FIRST

Thanks to RUN JANE RUN, wimin played ball for the first time on the Coveleski ball field. What a treat to have such a great view of wimin playing ball and to do the viewing from comfortable seats.

The Network Band played while we ate and waited for game time. They were a real plus to the event.

There was a moderate turn out, which was really good seeing as how many people got the advertising flyer after the event. Rain threatened throughout most of the game, but waited until the very end of the last game to finally pour.

All in all, this event was a positive move into Herstory.

WOULDN'T IT BE NICE?

A recently acquired brochure welcoming persons to the city of Provincetown, has several statements that would be welcome in every city in the U.S. It states, "We are a diverse town of tourists and residents made up of children, teenagers, families, senior citizens, singles and couples, gay and straight....A large part of P'Town's appeal is due to our mutual respect for one another.... Because of our spirit of striving for tolerance, we abhor any acts of harassment or violence in any form against any person. Again, welcome, enjoy yourself! Thank you for treating Provincetown with dignity and for respecting the rights and lifestyles of everyone."

SYMBOLS OF PRIDE

The Black Triangle

The Nazi's made lesbians and other political and social "misfits" wear this in the concentration camps. There is little documentation about this symbol or the plight of lesbians in the Holocaust. Lesbians have claimed this as their symbol of liberation.

The Lambda

In the Spartan armies, platoons of gay men had the lambda symbol emblazoned on their shields. In 1969, the lambda was chosen by lesbian and gay organizations in New York and New Jersey as a symbol of liberation. The "L" stood for liberation and is the eleventh letter of the Greek alphabet. In 1974, the lambda was chosen as the international symbol for lesbian and gay rights by the first international Gay Rights Congress.

The Labrys

The labrys, a doubled headed ax, is worn by many lesbians as symbol of power and pride. The labrys was used as a battle ax by Amazon wimmin and also as an agricultural tool during matriarchal times.

Lavender

The color is a mixture of pink and blue and is supposed to represent lesbians and gays.

-info from The Newsletter of the Lesbian Caucus of the National Coalition Against Sexual Assault-

The Rainbow

The flag originated in San Francisco in the 70's as an alternative to the US flag. Now the rainbow is symbolic of the diversity and many colors of the lesbian/gay community in the US and Europe.

The Pink Triangle

This was used by the Nazi's for gay men and is now a symbol of gay liberation.

Green Carnations

In Oscar Wilde's day these were used by gay men to signify to other men that they were gay.

But why? He's got two great eyes, two great ears, two great hands, two great feet, and...
